

This is KPTZ 91.9 FM in Port Townsend, Washington. I'm Ann Katzenbach with local news and commentary for today, June 17, 2022.

Because of the recent COVID-19 outbreak at Blue Heron School, the eighth-grade celebration will take place on the KPTZ airwaves today right after the Community Calendar. Instead of being held as an in-person event, the celebrating eight-graders broadcast will be honored on the KPTZ broadcast as they listen on their cars in a drive-through procession. The celebration broadcast will be an hour and a half, from 11am to 12:30. Democracy Now and Community Tides are preempted.

Yesterday, during a virtual ceremony, the Jefferson County Board of Public Health Department awarded KPTZ a Public Health Hero Award. This recognition was for providing the community with vital information about the COVID-19 pandemic. Our coverage of the Blue Heron graduation celebration is yet another way that KPTZ collaborates with our community.

In June of 2021, President Biden declared June 19 a national holiday. Shortened from June Nineteenth to Juneteenth, it marks the date that African Americans consider the end of slavery. Union Major General Gordon Granger and his troops arrived at Galveston TX on June 19, 1865, with news that the war had ended and that the enslaved were now free. That was more than two months after the South surrendered. Texas slave owners knew that their slaves had been freed, but neglected to tell them. For two months, the workers carried on as they had for generations, not knowing they were free men and women. They were the last slaves to learn that the north had won the Civil War.

The Food and Drug Administration's outside experts voted unanimously that Moderna vaccine is safe and effective enough to give children ages 6 to 17. Following close on its heels, FDA is expected to approve a vaccine for children age 6 months to 5 years. It is expected that FDA full approval will come quickly. Following close on its heels, the FDA is expected to give approval for a vaccine for children ages 6 months to 5 years. Dr. Allison Berry said on Monday that Jefferson Health Care and Jefferson Public Health are able to give these shots and they should be ready at the end of June. The vaccinations for children will be different than the adult shots in the arm. The approach used with adults, said Berry, "doesn't work for small people."

In Jefferson County the rate of COVID-19 is still in the high range. Most people who have contracted COVID-19, report that it is far worse than any seasonal flu and puts one in bed for at least a week. Older folk or those with compromised immune systems will suffer more and longer. Dr Berry pointed out that the long-term effects of COVID-19 are still not fully understood and can be debilitating.

Port Townsend, with its rich Victorian history, is a favorite locale for Steampunkers, and this weekend, they're back with their annual Brass Screw Consortium. Nathan Barnett, the director of Olympic Peninsula Steam, described steampunk as "a sense of an older time with a bit of whimsy uninhibited by science, physics, or reality. Most of the action takes place in and around Pope Marine Park. Steampunkers love to wear costumes and invent machines, so don't be surprised to see some fantastic apparitions on the streets of Port Townsend this weekend.

In Wednesday's Leader there was a section devoted to student art. The quality of visual and poetic work is way above average, and students and teachers should be proud of these creative efforts. I want to share one poem that was written as a collaborative effort by Dawn Braden's first grade class. The poem is entitled "Tears". Maybe it can help us all put things into perspective.

"Tears"

Extinct dinosaurs
Lost imagination
Unsold rainbow hotdogs
Grandma's old cat, Lou
Growing up
Endangered orcas
Falling out of bed
Pets without homes
Bike crashes
Lost dogs
Losing soccer games
Ice cream on the ground
The story of Smokey Bear
Last day of first grade.

And that's it for today's news. KPTZ 91.9 FM brings you local news at noon and five pm, Monday through Friday and at noon on Saturday. I'm Ann Katzenbach. Thanks for listening and have a great weekend!
